Progress Through Education

Today there is an urgent exigency for pioneers, for what the progress of the world most needs is fearless pioneering. The fulfillment of this need must come from us and others like us, regardless of race or creed. We must cultivate within ourselves the spirit of adventure and have the courage and intelligence to follow where it leads. Education provides us with these necessary factors. We all know that progress comes as departure from precedent, from doing something that has never been done before or doing what has been done in a new and better way. We must dare to be radical thinkers. A radical thinker is an original thinker, a sound thinker—an intuitive, enthusiastic, and progressive thinker. Such thinking combined with sustained ardor, makes for constructive, beneficial progress. Education trains us for logical thinking. We must have the self-control and the stamina to see the successful completion of an idea which will produce a universal good. Our world of tomorrow will depend on how we prepare for it today!

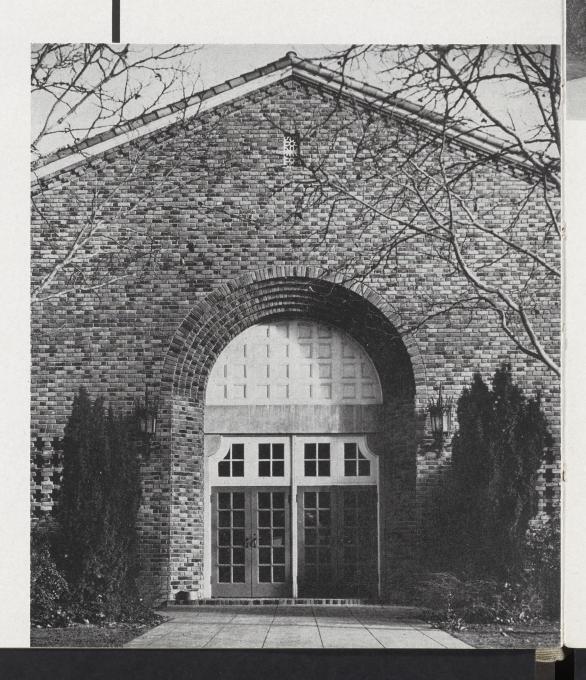

The Administration Building... Majestic monument to scholarship, character, and service.

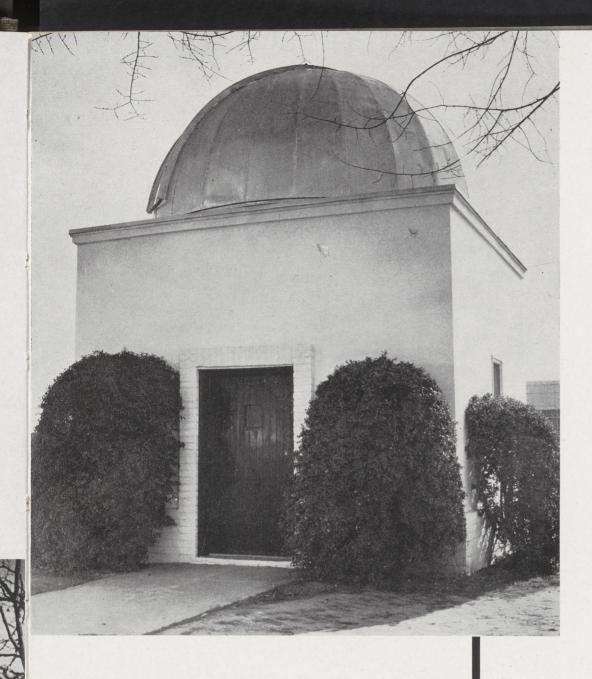

The Library . . . Fountain of Knowledge ready to satisfy those who thirst.

The Women's Gym . . . Where physical development vies with the mental.

The Observatory . . . Something Earthly with an eye for that which is Heavenly.

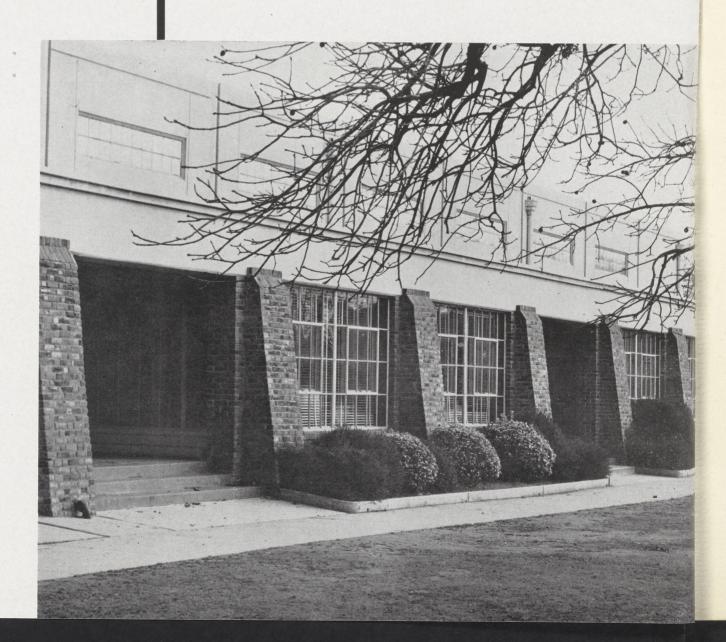

The Auditorium... Where the world of reality gives way to the world of make believe.

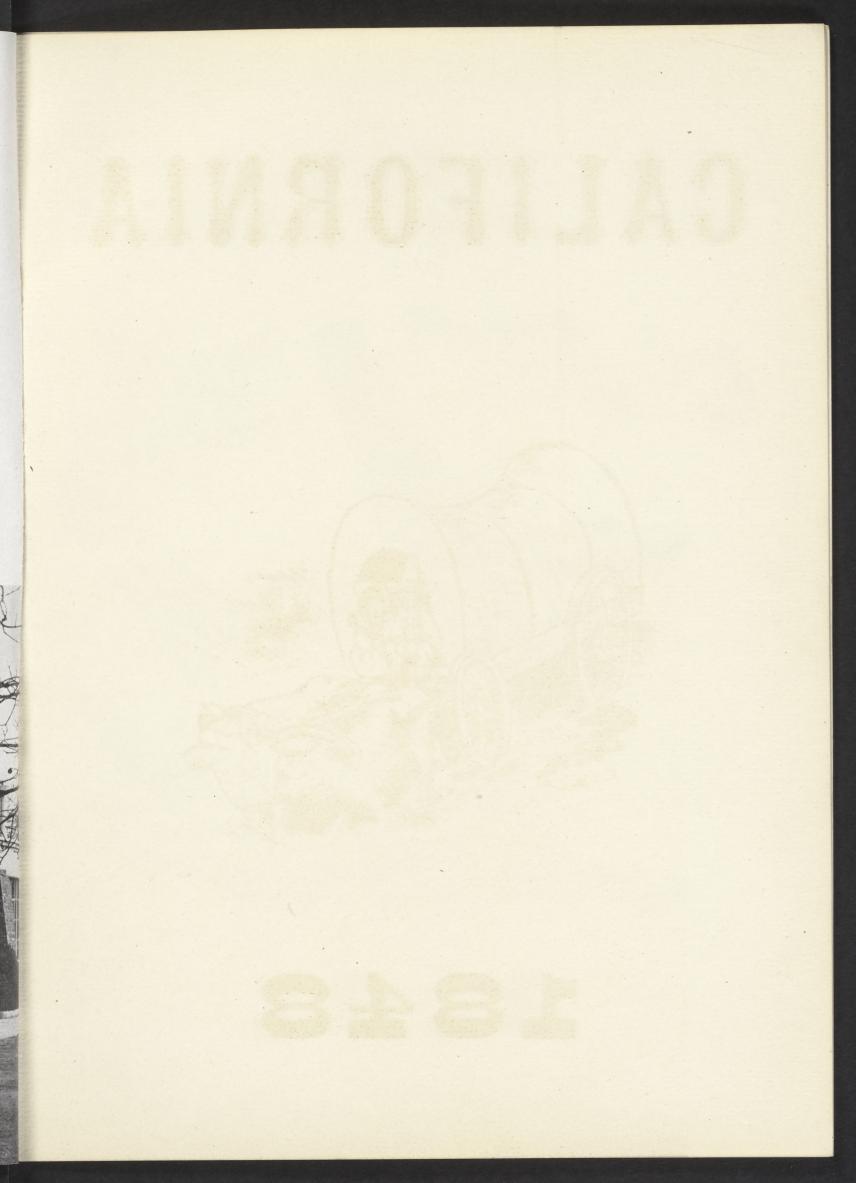

The Aeronautics Building... Where youthful pioneers study the mechanics of the wheels of progress.

The Cafeteria... dedicated to the task of appeasing the appetite.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE SACRAMENTO

February 17, 1948

TO THE STUDENT BODY OF SACRAMENTO COLLEGE:

It is a fine thing for the people of California to commemorate the Centennial anniversaries of the important events of this State's early history.

These observances help us to refresh our memories as to the glorious heritage which has been handed down to us from the past. They fortify us with confidence in the future. They challenge us to strive for new heights of achievement in our time.

As members of a rising generation you have a great stake in the continued development of our State. Yours is the opportunity to contribute with thought and action to the shaping of an even greater century of California history which is yet to come.

Sincerely,

Governor.

CITY OF SACRAMENTO CALIFORNIA

Sacramento College

There is no city in California which is more closely identified with the Centennial Years than our Capital City. It is therefore particularly fitting that as Mayor of Sacramento and so recently retired from the administration of Sacramento College, I should extend to you my hearty congratulations on the occasion of the Centennial publication.

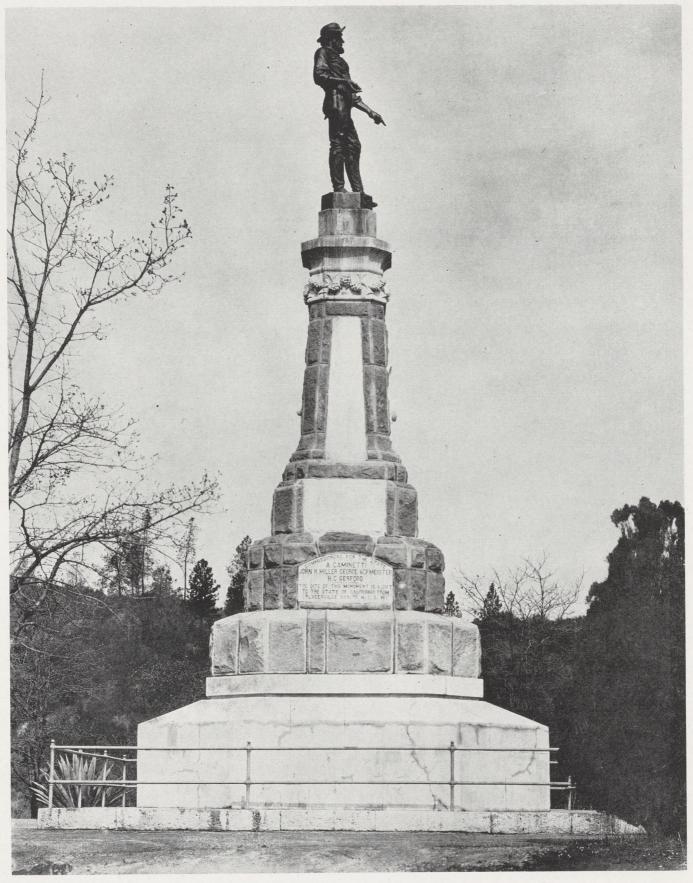

Sacramento is the site of historic Sutter's Fort, erected in 1839. Within 50 miles of Sacramento, gold was discovered at Coloma. All of the traditions of the early Western days should be perpetuated, and all of us should join forces to keep "Western Hospitality" as a watchword.

BELLE COLLEGE, MAYOR OR THE CITY OF SACRAMENTO

Sutter's Fort

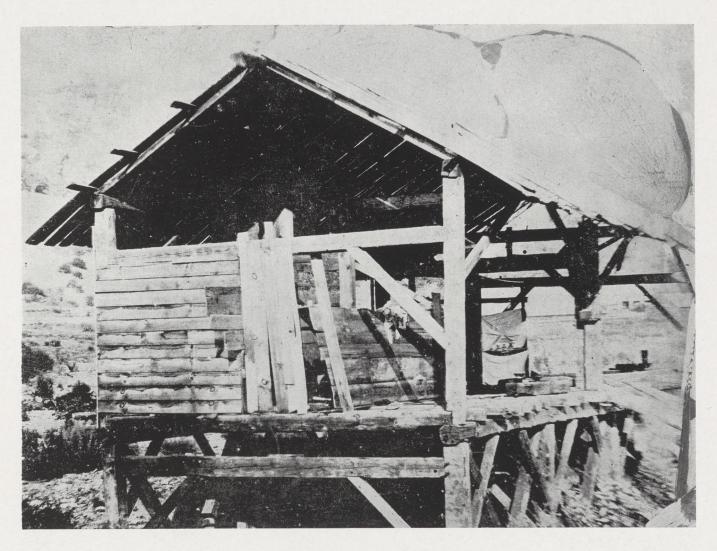

After his discovery of gold, James Wilson Marshall mounted his horse and rode from Coloma to Sutter's Fort, forty miles away. Sutter and Marshall locked themselves in a room, and for hours tested the precious metal. This is the Fort as it looks today.

ADMINISTRATION

AND FACULTY

Sacramento College

Sacramento College, located on Freeport Boulevard opposite William Land Park, was established in 1916. In the beginning it was a department of Sacramento High School. The first enrollment was 45 students. After more than a quarter of a century, the college reached a peak enrollment of 3,362 students before Pearl Harbor. The institution grew steadily until its three segments — regular day classes, day adult classes, and evening school —served a total of 10,748 people in 1941 when the United States entered World War II. The faculty, which numbered 16 part time instructors in 1916, increased to 110 full time instructors.

In January, 1922, the citizens of Sacramento voted to organize a district junior college. The institution carried the name of Sacramento Junior College until the City Board of Education voted in 1944 to call it Sacramento College.

The first president, the late Dr. Jeremiah B. Lilliard, was appointed in 1923 and served until his retirement in 1940. Dr. Richard E. Rutledge, whose services were terminated by his untimely death in 1942, was the second president. He was succeeded by Dr. Nicholas Ricciardi, the present head of the college.

Bonds were approved by the citizens of Sacramento for the purchase of sixty acres as a campus. In September, 1925, the first buildings were constructed. The college was transferred to the new campus in 1926. The first buildings were for administration, class rooms, laboratories, and a gymnasium now used as a gymnasium for girls. Other structures were built as follows: 1928, stadium; 1936, auditorium and fine arts, library, and men's gymnasium; 1938, the aeronautics building, cafeteria, and home economics wings were added; 1941, the shop building was completed.

The work of Sacramento College is carried on at the main campus, the adult education center, Municipal Airport, and at affiliated institutions—Sacramento County Hospital and Mercy Hospital.

At present the recently created Sacramento State College is also using the buildings and facilities of Sacramento College. A new era of progress and growth appears for one of California's outstanding educational institutions.

Nicholas Ricciardi

President

DR. RICCIARDI

rogress, as the theme for the Pioneer, suggests achievements. There are, of course, different kinds of achievements. Communists and Fascists maintain that they have made progress, but that kind of progress is based on ideas and ideals in conflict with ours. Our progress is the kind exemplified in the achievements of the California pioneers. It is the kind which justifies the California Centennial Celebration. Such progress emphasizes the development of the human being in his earnest efforts to achieve those human values which make him capable of contributing to the progress that is measured in terms of the development of every human being as an intelligent citizen and useful member of a democratic society in a united world.

NICHOLAS RICCIARDI

Administration

No educational institution is stronger than the men and women who administer it. The Administrative Staff of Sacramento Unified School District direct their efforts toward the operation of an institution that is growing in the educational life of the State of California.

We recognize them as educators and scholars interested in achieving new heights for Sacramento College.

Counselors

Wise counseling is a second education. As the architect draws plans for his structure, so the Counselor aids the students in planning for courses that will mean a sound foundation for the building of a successful life.

To the Counselors falls the responsibility of guiding the students in a course of study that will prepare them for leadership, preparedness, and success.

The Counselors are the friendly advisers for students at Sacramento College.

PRODUCTION DEPARTMENT

The Production Department and Placement Service under the direction of Marvin Fisher hold a major position in the contributions to the welfare of faculty and students.

This department is equipped with machines that are the equal of any other school in the country. Among the machines are a vari-typer, multilith, electromatic typewriter, electronic dictaphone, mimeographs, mimeoscopes, transcribers and ditto equipment. Students who complete work in the department are thoroughly trained to meet any problems peculiar to a secretarial career. Competent placement service also plays a large part in aiding students to secure positions for successful careers.

SACRAMENTO STATE COLLEGE

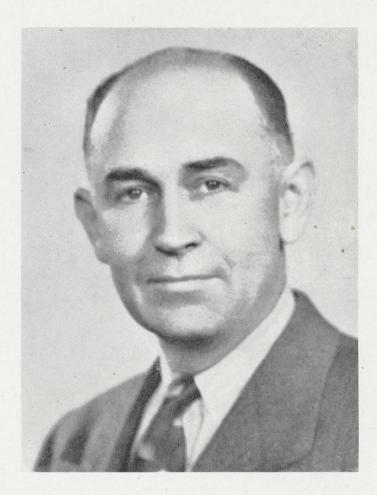

1947-48

ADMINISTRATION

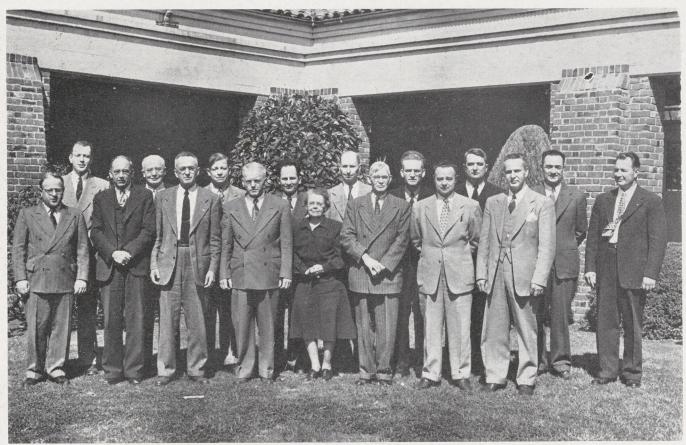

DR. GUY WEST Acting President

The establishment of the Sacramento State College this year has brought to the students both an opportunity and a challenge. The opportunity to secure a four-year college education is one that more and more students will continue to grasp and appreciate through the years.

The challenge has been many-sided and has been met in a most commendable way. Despite the fact that the machinery of the new college has needed adjustment here and there and not all desired services have yet been made available, our students have accepted the situation in the finest spirit and have cooperated fully in the common determination to carry on.

I trust that every year ahead will reflect as much progress as has been realized in the year 1947-48. Continued pulling together will enable us to realize that goal.

HISTORY OF THE SSCSA

With the Sacramento State College an actuality, there came the realization of the need for a student body organization. Early in the first school semester, a small group of progressove-minded students gave impetus to the movement, and this movement passed its first milestone with the meeting of prospective student body members at a luncheon at Casa Nello's. This get-together showed the wide-spread interest in the proposed organization, and so the actual forming of the SSCSA then became a cooperative effort on the part of a large body of students, faculty, and of our college president, Dr. West.

The next step was the general election in which there was the splendid response with approximately 80% of the full-time students voting. The results of the election showed that we had selected the following students: President, Bill Briggs; vice president; Peter Schuh; secretary, Willie Jean Hughes; treasurer, Bob Cosans (who later resigned and was replaced by the appointed Ralph Andrews). To help with the large task at hand, these officers appointed several committees. The SSCSA now held official status, and all activities were pursued with great zeal, copies of the constitutions of various State Colleges were sent for, and with these as models, the writing of the constitution proceeded; through the work of the public relations committee, the SSCSA was awarded fifteen minutes per week on a local radio station, KXOA, for a guestion and discussion program, the student activities committee was active also, and as a result of their work the state college student body sponsored an assembly for the combined student bodies of Sacramento College and Sacramento State College; an agreement was reached with the Sacramento College Student Association whereby state college students were to purchase Sacramento College student body cards and for each card sold to a state college student, a refund was given to the SSCSA; the Pioneer awarded the State college sixteen pages in their anual; there are many future plans and at this writing, the most immediate of these is the plan for a Junior Prom.

STATE COLLEGE BANQUET

All in all the SSCSA has had a good beginning, and if its fine fortune to date is any indication, there will be a most bright future; more activities, teams, color and more excellent friends to be made. These few words are a picture of the birth, growth, and dreams of the SSCSA. Thy are not intended as a complete picture, but rather as a get-acquainted device—we hope that many who are not familiar with the SSCSA will have pleasant relations with it in the future.

AIMS OF PHI THETA KAPPA

The outstanding students of Sacramento Junior College are those selected for membership in Phi Theta Kappa. The primary purposes of the Alpha Pi Chapter of the Phi Theta Kappa Honorary Fraternity are to promote scholarships, encourage fellowship, and develop character in its members. The organization is composed of students whose grade point averages are not lower than B. However, the club has other aims besides furthering scholarship. For example, some of the meetings are composed of social activities.

Our chapter here at Sacramento College has two main projects. One is the presentation of scholarships to the two students in the graduating class having the highest grade point averages. The other is our annual publication, "Stars in Their Eyes," an anthology of original student writings.

ORGANIZATIONS

ORGANIZATIONS

Many Sacramento College students participate in the activities of on-campus and off-campus fraternities and sororities. These activities, although primarily social in nature, often include participation in student and community welfare projects. Through them students may develop leadership and widen their social contacts.

These groups also promote good sportsmanship, fellowship and the spirit of Americanism.

SEASON RESUME

The Sacramento College Panther football squad of 1947 had a total record of three wins and six losses. In Northern California Junior College Conference play, they won three contests and lost four, ending up in next to last place in their division of the circuit.

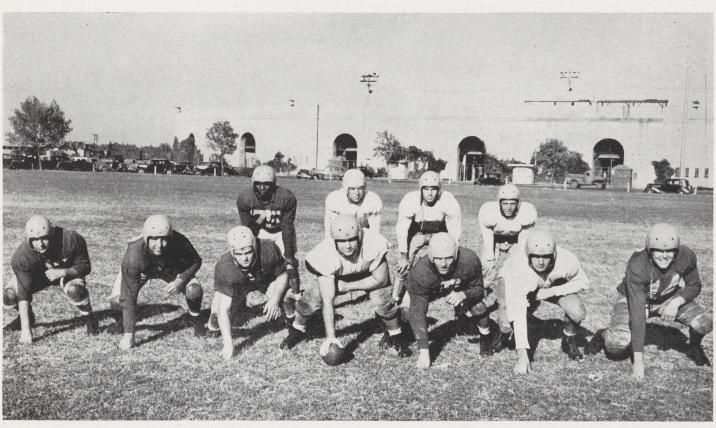

The Panthers opened the year with a 15-6 victory over an inferior, but fighting Grant Tech Saracen eleven. "Mickey," Frank, and "Doc" Cuffe, Austin Brown, Bob Wells, Bob Willett, and George Clark were judged the outstanding Sacramentans, who counted in the first and final periods allowing the Saracens to score in the second quarter. Jim and Ray Connally, Jim Skarles, Nick Martinelli, and Jack Rhoades stood out in the Panther forward wall.

In their second league fray against the powerful San Francisco Rams, SC lost by the close score of 12-6. The Panthers almost captured this one by coming back in the final quarter to score a six-pointer and come within one yard of tallying another in the closing minutes. The Rams were the better team, however, showing power in every way and scoring in the first and third priods. Again the experts said that the Connallys, Skarles, and Rhoades were the stars, with Tom Armstrong and Joe Kline coming in for their share of the glory.

With a conference record of three wins and two losses, the Panthers took time off to engage the Bakersfield Renegades in a practice game. Though they were defeated, the Panthers played one of their greatest contests of the year. Behind 13-0 at half time, the locals were definitely an outclassed squad. However, they came roaring back against terrific odds to tie up the game in the closing minutes, only to see the lucky Renegades score the winning touchdown on a pass play in fourth down with but seven seconds to go. Bob Willett was again the hero as he scored the tying touchdown on an 80-yard gallop. Ray Connally, Nick Martinelli, John Bieth, Russ Crocco, and the Cuffes also turned in creditable performances.

This heart-breaking defeat of the Panthers seemed to have a lasting effect on them for they went on to lose their last three games of the season against the Modesto Pirates, 18-0; the Stockton Cubs, 19-6; and the Los Angeles City College Cubs, 20-7.

At a post-season banquet, the Panther squad elected Frank Cuffe, its halfback, honorary captain and John Bieth, guard, its most valuable player.

LOCAL BOYS HOLD SOUTHERNERS IN MUD BATTLE

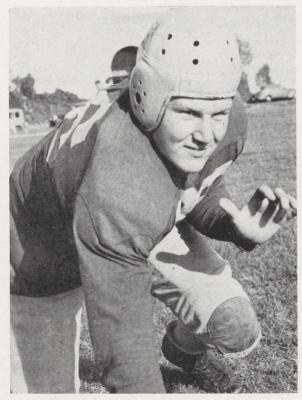

The Cardinal and Gold seemed to be in a rut as they dropped their second straight tilt to a rugged Napa Chief team by the same score of 12-6. The main reason for the Panther defeat was the fact that the field was so soaked that the local "T" was stymied. The Panther line was again heralded.

The locals got back on the winning trails against the San Mateo Bulldogs, who eventually finished in the cellar of the NCJCC without a win. In this game the Panthers found a new backfield combination in the quartet of Tom Armstrong, Russ Crocco, Earl Martin, and Ted Verras, who led the Panthers to a 13-0 victory. Frank Delavan at end was one of Coach Earl Hoos' new discoveries as he terrorized the SM backfield with his speedy entries.

The next contest gave the local fans the best game to watch in many, many years at Sacramento College. The Sacramento Panthers edged out the Salinas Panthers in a forward passing duel by emerging with a 32-27 margin. All nine touchdowns in this game were scored via the aerial route, with Sacramento's Bob Olwell on the throwing end of most of them. Olwell twirled the winning pass to hero Bob Willett with three minutes left in the tilt.
